Where the Sale Price Goes

- Commissions are negotiable and not set by law.
- Property tax prorated from Jan 1 to the day before closing ($6,900 bill less the 4% early-payment discount).
- Assumed: this year's tax bill is still unpaid at closing. If the seller pays it first, the buyer credits back the rest of the year instead.
- Title company fees are typical local charges; the title company's quote replaces them.
- The HOA estoppel fee is a typical local charge; the association's fee schedule replaces it.
- Payoffs are estimates until the lender's payoff letter, which adds interest through the closing date.
- Not included: liens or judgments, HOA dues owed or prorated, and utility bills.

Estimates only, not legal, lending or tax advice. The title company's settlement statement gives the final figures.
